SEEKER! Ken Campbell
His Five Amazing Lives
by Jeff Merrifield

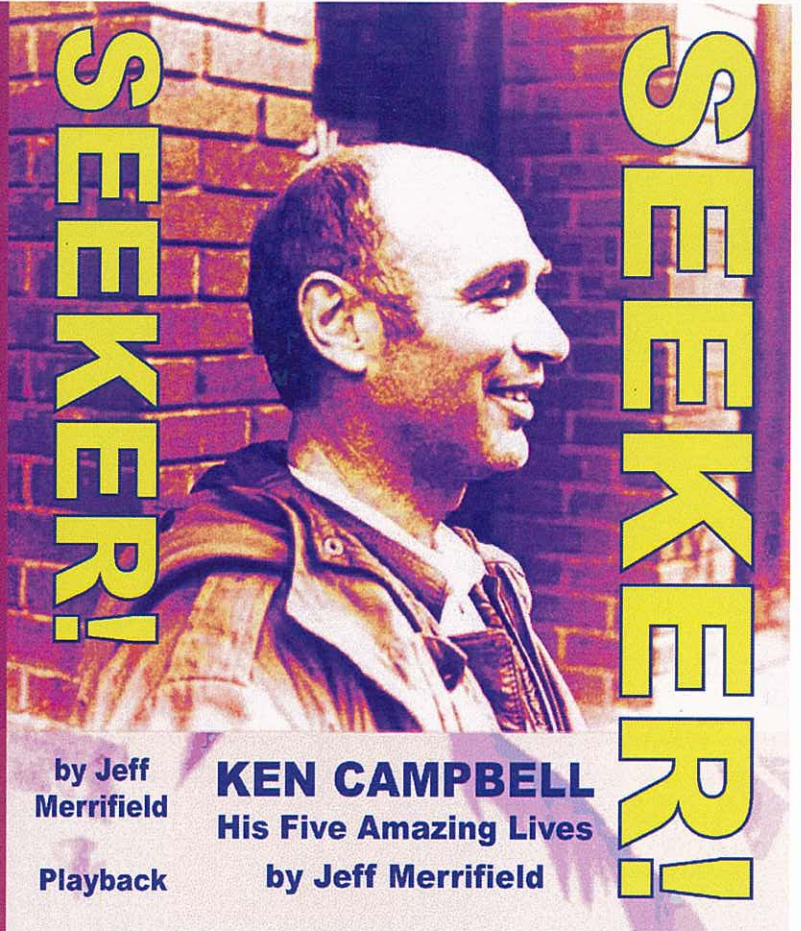

Foreword by Jim Broadbent
Forethought by Sylvester McCoy

- The showman and japester who soon learned that it was better to put on your own shows than be in those of others and that comedy was the route!
- The originator of 'bar room tales' that made big burly men cry in their beer!
- The producer of epic theatre, including a dramatised science fiction trilogy, a twenty-two hour play and an audience riding round a theatre on hover pads!
- The master storyteller who could hold his audiences spellbound for two hours or more with tales of weirdness and wonderment!
- The man who gave improvised theatre a new lease of life, not just of exceptional quality but in staging improvised shows up to 36 and 50 hours long!
